Grant Township United Way board prepares to make allocations

The Grant Township United Way allocation committee is tentatively scheduled to meet Monday to discuss donations to approximately 20 agencies.

The announcement came at Wednesday's board of directors meeting.

A total of $30,007.57 has been pledged thus far, said United Way secretary Susan Redden. The group's goal had been $35,000.

Agencies receiving United Way funds have requested a total of $32,000, said treasurer Marge Garrison. However, some of those agencies are from Danville and "request thousands of dollars," she said. "We usually give them a token payment."

Last year, the group allocated $29,000 to receiving agencies, an amount Garrison expects to be repeated this year.

Officials act to foreclose on Hoopeston pallet company

City officials have taken action to foreclose on a recipient of a revolving loan.

On Dec. 13, attorneys for the city filed for foreclosure against M&N Pallet Company, 900 S. Second Ave., said Alderman Bill Goodwine, chairman of the city's revolving loan committee.

The company repairs pallets and also accepts waste paper for recycling from area businesses.

The foreclosure is against company owner Lowell Null and unknown owners, Goodwine said, adding Null made his July 1996 payment but has missed every payment since then.

Null borrowed $40,000 from the revolving loan fund in January 1993, Goodwine said. He currently owes $22,430, he said.

Guidelines for collecting overdue accounts are very specific, said Goodwine. When a borrower is 10 days overdue, Goodwine, as the chief administrator of
